

This is Shannon. With three little boys and a baby on the way, Shannon needs strong, dependable prosthetics to keep up with her active children. Shannon's practitioner chose the ORION Microprocessor Knee and the élan to do just that.

Utilizing our patented microprocessor technology, both the ORION and the élan provide the user with the ultimate in stability and safety. The ORION is able to rapidly select support as needed and adapt from slow to fast walking speeds providing a visually natural gait. The élan's hydraulic yielding function is a self aligning feature that provides stability while standing or traversing varied terrain.

From playing by the creek, maneuvering the monkey bars to blowing bubbles in the park, the ORION and élan allow Shannon to be there every step of the way.
