Aura

Available March 15th, 2010

The Aura is a sock with a specially designed seal to work with expulsion or vacuum systems, which allows the prosthetist to select the height of the seal. Used in combination with Evolution custom or off the shelf liners, the Aura seals against the inner wall of both AK and BK sockets.

EVOLUTION SEAL PLATES

Evolution Seal Plates create a reservoir for vacuum, extending the vacuum life of a socket. The Seal Plates can be used on their own with a hand or electronic pump or with other inline electronic systems. They are also available with a push button vacuum release for Aura suspension systems.
