

A full-page photograph of Jackie Christiansen, a Paralympic shot put gold medalist, in a powerful throwing stance. He is wearing a dark grey athletic shirt with orange accents and black shorts. He holds a shot put in his right hand, and his left arm is extended forward. He has a prosthetic lower leg on his left side, which is a black, curved blade-like design. He is wearing black athletic shoes with bright yellow-green soles. The background is a dark, silhouetted landscape with trees under a twilight sky with some orange and red hues.
