Quality for life

“The C-Leg...that’s performance.”

Your patients can tell the difference.

Don't settle for less. Get clinically proven function and unmatched patient satisfaction from the industry's Standard of Care, the C-Leg[®] microprocessor-controlled knee. Lisa feels the difference every time she walks her dogs, leads a class, or goes camping with her family.

Another patient described the difference C-Leg has made for him:

“I was on [another microprocessor knee]. Just walking around, without any changes in gait, it would pop into the stumble mode. It was so inconsistent. If I can't trust the thing to be reliable, then I don't want any part of it.

“With the C-Leg... No trouble. That's performance.”
