

The Sweet Science of Harmony® P3

Get the winning combination.

The advanced science of the Harmony® P3 offers vacuum generation, vertical shock absorption, and torsion to create an optimized limb environment.

Your patients get comfort, security, and proven reliability when you combine a Harmony® P3 vacuum system with a custom polyurethane (PUR) liner and a ProFlex sleeve from Otto Bock.

This powerhouse team is ideal for low to high mobility patients, who will feel the difference in volume management, reduced forces, and excellent suspension. The PUR liner material is durable, easy to clean, and protects and cushions the residual limb. Add the ProFlex sleeve for easy flexion and a secure seal.
