

You see a box.

WE HEAR A PHONE RINGING amidst a whirl of voices. We hear the rapid explanation of a customer with a problem; His anxious questions about size & availability; Clicking of lightening-fast fingers racing across a computer keyboard. Then the gratified sigh of relief upon hearing SPS Customer Service say, "It's in stock and will ship today. Thank you for your order."

There is more to SPS service than meets the eye. We hear you. We know you have emergencies come up every day. We know you need fewer steps, shortened waits and useful, easy to understand information. Service excellence is our promise to you and we reaffirm that promise with every box that leaves our warehouses.
